Columbia County Sheriff's deputies responded to Coop ("co-op") Road in the Clatskanie area on a disturbance call at 5:42 a.m. this morning, and learned that Tracy Mitchell, 40, had stabbed her husband, James C. Mitchell, 43. Ms. Mitchell was reportedly driving her husband to the hospital when deputies caught up with the vehicle and summoned medics. The victim had been stabbed in the neck and torso.

The stabbing took place at 18382 Coop RD, which is the residence of a third party. Ms. Mitchell is in custody, charged with Assault First Degree, and Burglary First Degree and Menacing. The victim was taken to St. John Hospital in Longview. We currently have no word on his condition.

This case remains under investigation.
